DC Academy of Family Physicians

Scholarship Application for
The National Conference of Family Medicine Residents and Students

The DC Academy of Family Physicians is pleased to provide scholarships to 1 student from each of the 4 medical schools and 1 resident from each of the residency programs in the District of Columbia to attend the virtual AAFP National Conference of Residents and Students. Each scholarship is worth up to $155, but scholarship recipients will be reimbursed for actual registration fee expenses only.

Preference will be given to students entering their 4th year of medical school who are planning to pursue a career in Family Medicine. Active membership in the AAFP/DCAFP and demonstrated leadership in Family Medicine will also be considered in deciding who will receive the scholarships.

To apply, please complete the following application:

Name: _____ Year: _____ Date: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____ E-mail: _____

Identify how you have demonstrated leadership in Family Medicine and what you will gain by attending this conference. Please attach additional sheet if necessary. Limit essay to 500 words.
